A PROCLAMATION.

STATE OF DELAWARE,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

I, Benjamin T. Biggs, Governor of the State of Delaware, do hereby proclaim and make known in accordance with the provisions of an act of the General Assembly of this State, that on the sixth day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, being the Tuesday next after the first Monday in said month, an election will be held in the several counties of this State, at the places in the hundreds respectively at which the General election in the said year is held, for the purpose of choosing by ballot, the electors for the election of President and Vice President of the United States,

In testimony whereof, I, Benjamin T. Biggs, Governor as aforesaid, have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed, at Dover, this twenty-second day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight.

[L. S.]

By the Governor: BENJAMIN T. BIGGS.
JOHN P. SAULSBURY,
Secretary of State.

FOR ten days longer the laboring man's friend, will figure prominently before the public. After that his quadrennial flight, will be as certain and mysterious as that of the Ortolan from our river marshes.

JUST now there are to be found a class of individuals, whose name is legion, who say much and know little. A different aspect of things will be seen after November 6th. About half of them will know much and say little.

ALVAN ALLEN, ESQ., of Wilmington, Del., is the Democratic candidate for Sheriff of New Castle county. A very brief acquaintence with this gentleman leads us to believe that in his election the county will go a great way beyond their usual wisdom in the selection of fitting incumbents for this responsible office. We are more than favorably impressed with Mr. Allen's personality, in fact we intend it as a compliment to him, when we say he does not look like a Sheriff; he could sell our property and still be our friend. We predict that Mr. Allen will, if he does not lead the ticket, be found well up in the race. We also predict that he will make a model Sheriff, and feel that we can safely recommend him to all Democrats, for their votes.

LITTLE or nothing has been said or done by the press of New Castle county, looking to the success of our county ticket. Whether this is the result of an overweening confidence in the righteousness of our cause, or the conceded admirable qualifications of the gentlemen composing our county ticket, we know not; but we think it due the party and the ticket to speak a good word for our candidates, and ask for them at this time, the united support of this hundred, dropping all factional differences, sinking them, so to speak, in the general desire for party success. Whether this may seem consistent with politics from an independent point of view or no, we will not now determine. All we can say is, that we see no particular danger staring us in the face from a continuation of Democratic rule in this State, nor any the slightest promise of better things from our friends, the Republicans. Therefore as Democrats, we propose to support the whole ticket and earnestly call on all who have hitherto called themselves such to do likewise. We would have liked to have seen our legislative ticket nominated on the pledge of constitutional reform, but beyond a few promises, not in any sense binding, there is little to be hoped for on this score, and we are put to the choice of deserting our party, because it fails in one particular, and supporting another, no better in this sense—or of standing by our party, clearly the better in all other things. We infinitely prefer the latter. Let every Democrat in St. Georges Hundred do likewise.

WE have, in a few remarks on our first page, ventured to differ with Mr. Treat in some of his conclusions arrived at in his speech of last Friday evening. We would probably have done this had he discussed the Tariff instead of the matter he did. The only difference being that, whether the Tariff is a tax, as the 'Bowery Parrot' of the New York Press and Morning News says, or no, it certainly is an issue, while the subjects dealt with by Mr. Treat are scarcely so.

WE would call the attention of our patrons and the public, to the fact, that we are devoting more time to the first page of THE TRANSCRIPT, than is usually given to the average country weekly. Most people think that first pages, in fact the whole paper apart from the local columns are of no account; and perhaps they may be right. But if by extra labor we can interest them, even in an imperfect way, we think we will have accomplished something. This week we have nearly all original matter on our first page. Next week we will print an article from the Journal of Commerce by one of our regular correspondents which we know will be instructive reading to many of our subscribers.

THE flopper-editor of the Transcript —Phelps like—seems determined, if possible, to widen the breach and increase the animosities, however slight they may be, by a newspaper controversy about matters unimportant, but explainable. Our "sagacity" teaches us that Democratic interest are best served by treating him with silent contempt. Kent county, this State, it is well known, has been rendered doubtful to the Democratic party, we are sorry to say, in a great measure by newspaper fights. If Mr. Biggs is satisfied with his 46 majority, why should the Transcript editor squeal? That more could have been obtained, if necessary, is an indisputable fact. The editor need have no fears; there is not the least danger in the world of his securing a position, either elective or by appointment, before his head becomes as gray as the writer of these lines. "Thanks awfully," and to whatever little "sagacity" we may be given credit for, we trust our neighbor will not forget that we think there is another quality we can lay some claim to that is an entire stranger to the editor of the Transcript—"Stability." Unstable as water thou shalt not excel," &c. "Tata!"—New Era of October 8th.

The above purports to be a final answer to a statement of facts published by the TRANSCRIPT of Sept. 29, and explained Oct. 11th. That it is irrelavent is obvious, but mainly from the fact that, white being white, it is useless to try to make it black, therefore in the way of reply to the same, in line with our former statements, we conceive nothing to be necessary. We regard the article as a dose of medicine however, and beg leave to acknowledge its receipt and after careful analysis, think we can swallow it all, reserving the "silent contempt" as an antidote, against any possible bad results. The dose is made up.

4 parts Slang.
1 part Humor.
1 part Prophecy.
1 part Scripture.

The four parts Slang are as follows: "Flopper" "Thanks Awfully" "Squeal" and "Ta Ta." It will be observed that we reproduce these expressions, chained down by quotation marks thus rendering them harmless to readers of the TRANSCRIPT.

The Humor, is extracted from the following:—(referring to the celebrated majority of 46.) "That more could have been obtained, if necessary, is an indisputable fact. Were it not for the solemn vow of "silent contempt" registered against us, we would like to ask, How? at the same time having heard how it is sometimes done, it is funny to suppose we ever doubted it.

The Prophecy, tells us, we need never fear having greatness thrust upon us in the shape of office, either elective or appointive. We admit frankly that we never tremble on this score. Our excessive modesty, coupled with our self confessed inability to mingle intellectually with the highly gifted office holders of Delaware both present and prospective, preclude any such dire disaster overtaking us.

The Scriptural quotation informs us "thou shalt not excel" this is probably true also, and "for the nonce" we concede the point; yet it has oftentimes been the subject of serious debate on our part, whether our non success was due to the lack of appreciation by the public of our peculiar abilities, or an absence of the abilities themselves; our decision has invariably been in our favor, but we have to acknowledge its lack of practical force, at the same time. We have spoken our last on this subject until after November 6th, '88 at any rate, and sincerely hope forever.

WE venture to say that the party of high moral ideas, cannot point to a single instance in their twenty-four years of power like the following:—

The Democrats of Connecticut hoped to have the help of some campaign speeches from Ex-Governor Waller, one of the most popular men in the State, but they have been disappointed. Mr. Waller, who is consul General at London, is home on leave of abscense. When he applied for the leave he explained, that he did not intend to take part in the political canvass and when asked to take the stump said that he could not do so without the consent of the Department of State. He wrote to the Department on the subject and received this reply:

"I have no hesitation in saying, as the view of the department, that it is not considered proper for consular officers while on leave of absence in the United States to take any active part in a political canvass, and I entirely concur in the opinions expressed by you upon the subject. It is hoped, therefore, that you will adhere to the determination you have already expressed. It has been and is the purpose of the President to give the people of the United States an honest and just administration, and to leave them free at the end of his term to express themselves for or against the records so made without official interference or instruction."

Things have changed since former campaigns, when half of our leading diplomatic and consular representatives used to come home to stump their States for the administration candidates.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22th, 1888.—Speaker Carlisle, as he dropped the gavel which declared the House adjourned sine die. wore a smile of triumph that spoke louder than words to his Democratic colleages; it told them of the victory which the House had won over the Senate, in compelling the latter body to take the initiatory in passing a resolution for adjournment after its Republican members had repeatedly stated that unless the House started it there would be no adjournment at all. It has been a long session the longest by eighteen days in our history but the Democrats have a right to feel proud of the work they have accomplished in the House. The Mills tariff bill of itself is well worth all the time that this long session has consumed. Members of the Senate, particularly of its majority cannot feel pride in the work accomplished by that body; it produced an alleged substitute for the Mills bill, which it did not dare to pass, although the opportunity was accorded them on the day it was first reported by the democratic Senators, who proposed that the debate should be limited to ten days. The Republicans refused to allow the debate to be limited. Why? Because they did not wish the monstrosity they had reported, to pass; it was like the tin torch and painted transparency, only gotten up for campaign purposes.

The quietness with which the adjournment was accomplished was unusual. There was not a score of members in either House when the gavel fell, and the only notable occurence was the singing of the Doxology in the press gallery of the House, by the tired newspaper men. Immediately after Speaker Carlisle announced the adjournment. This action was not intended to be irreverent, but was rather in the nature of a spontaneous rendering of sincere thanks for a much needed rest after eleven months of continuous work.

Senator Blackburn, just before the Senate adjourned, presented the minority report of the committee appointed to investigate the alleged violations of the civil service law. The report declares that an effort had persistently been made by the majority against the protest of the minority, to limit the inquiry to the time covered by the present administration, and that all efforts to bring out the facts as to the operations of the law under previous Republican administrations, were invariably denied by a strict party vote. Despite the efforts of the majority, it was clearly shown by the testimony of several of their witnesses, that all the evils and abuses complained of to-day, came down to this administration as an inheritance. The levying of assessments upon Government officials for partisan purposes, was in general, if not universal, practiced prior to March, 1885, and discrimination in the matter of appointments because of political views was by no means a novel feature, nor one which has been introduced by the present administration. The report devotes more than fifty pages to a careful analysis of the testimony taken, which shows the majority of the committee up in a manner that will not add to their reputation as statesmen.

Mr. Cleveland has consented to go to New York city and review the mammoth business men's Cleveland, Thurman and Hill pararde next Saturday evening. This action should put a quietus upon all the absured rumors as to the President not being in sympathy with the re-election of Governor Hill. They are both Democrats, and good ones too. And they will both be elected.

The sixty Sioux Chiefs who have been here, have rejected every proposition made to them by the Government. They insist on being paid $1.25 an acre for all their land, which Secretary Vilas thinks is preposterous. The Indians have started back to their reservation.

Speaker Carlisle is booked for one speech in Ohio and half a dozen in Indiana.

Unusual efforts are being made here to send every Democratic voter in the doubtful States, who is temporarily residing in Washington, home to vote. Those who cannot afford to purchase railroad tickets are furnished free transportation.

WE again are reluctantly obliged to call attention, by way of warning, to the evil results of no insurance. Mr. Knotts an intelligent farmer near Newark, Del., finds himself considerably embarrassed by a practical result of the "penny wise and pound foolish" way of looking at things. We can further strengthen our general position, by a reference to this individual case. Mr. Knotts, we are informed, was solicited only a few weeks since to secure himself against loss, by the payment of about $3, but preferred to vote the agent a bore, and take the risk. With the benefits of some of his present experience, he will perhaps decide differently next time. Mr. Knotts has many friends in this section who are sorry for his misfortune, and yet, who is most to blame?

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. A Boston lady, whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I had taken Hood's Sarsaparilla, knew what it was, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other. When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." MRS. ELLA A. GOFF, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.

Fearing the Worst.

Sammy (who is never allowed to stay out of school)—Howdie Hurbet didn't come to school all day.

Mamma—Why not?

Sammy—'Cause his mother died. When you die may I stay home all day?

Mamma—Yes, darling; you may stay out a whole week then.

Sammy (suspiciously)—Oh, I know; you mean to die in vacation.—Life.

The poultice which draws out a man's virtues is the sed that covers his grave. If you don't want all your virtues known too soon, regulate the regulator with Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla. It makes pure blood which gives sound health. Largest bottle in market–120 doses for $1. Druggists.

The annual report of the General Superintendent of the Railway Mail Service, shows that the service is in operation upon 143,713 miles of railroad, and 5,972 miles of inland steamboat routes. The total number of clerks in the service is 5,094.

Log Cabins have mostly disappeared as human habitations. Many good people have lived in them, and many great men have been born in them. Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla and "Tippecanoe" Stomach Tonic, made by Warner of Safe Cure fame, are reproductions of the best of the old time remedies, with which the pioneers of America maintained their rugged health.

An analysis of the Senate tariff bill just completed, shows that if enacted into a law, it would reduce the revenues of the Government on the dutiable list less than $15.000,000.

The last bill introduced in Congress was one providing for a Constitutional amendment, requiring United States Senators to be elected by a direct vote of the people.

Wanamaker's.

—A pound auction was held in the Republican Club Room by the ladies of the Home Missionary Society last Thursday evening. The proceeds were for a worker among the Mormons of Utah.

—The hind trucks of the south-bound freight train No. 19 jumped the track near the fair grounds at Dover, Monday morning and caused the delay of the passenger train until a wreck train from Clayton went down and set matters aright.

—The Democratic Hundred Committee have appointed men in each school district for the purpose of making a canvas of the hundred and to provide conveyances for voters who have no way of getting to the polls at the coming presidential election.

—The Electric Light Company are going to put in three arc lights in a week or so. One will be placed in the public square, one at the depot and one at the electric light station. In all probability some of Middletown's merchants will try the new light.

—A large Democratic meeting will be held in the Middletown Opera House this evening. Governor Biggs and the Hons. Chas. Lore and Geo. Gray will speak upon the issues of the campaign. The Citizens' Cornet Band will furnish music and a big time is anticipated. Everybody is invited to attend.

—A Republican mass meeting was held in the Opera House last Friday evening. There was a fair audience present. The meeting was addressed by Chas. H. Treat, Esq., of Georgetown, Congressional candidate on the Republican ticket, and E. G. Bradford, Esq., of Wilmington. Both speeches were well delivered.

—List of unclaimed letters at the Post-office, Middletown, for the week ending October 18th:—Rose Ann Lodyne, Frank Godwin, Albert Heavlow, Annie Kanz, J. B. McGinnis, Mrs. Willie Osteron, Weslight Robertson, Mary Short, William Burk, Mary Silvias. Persons calling for the above letters will please say they are advertised.

—Mr. Arthur P. Jones wishes us to say that he is now ready to receive orders for hanging paper in or out of town. Mr. Jones has had an experience of eight years in the business and has worked under the best workman in the city. All orders for paper hanging can be left at the store of Mrs. J. L. Parsons, opposite People's National Bank, Middletown. All orders promptly attended to.

—The Academy of Music in Wilmington, on Delaware Avenue, burned down Tuesday eve, about half past eight. The entire structure was destroyed. Loss about $20,000. Insurance, with Buck & Co., $10.000. This institution has been a financial failure from the start and some one will doubtless be just as well satisfied that it has gone. It was built by L. P. Buck of the present firm of Buck & Co., insurance agents at Wilmington.

—John F. Gilpin, a brother of Ex-Mayor Charles Gilpin, and the oldest stock broker in the city, died Monday, October 22, at his residence in Philadelphia on Broad street, below Spruce. He was 92 years old. For some time he had been suffering from general debility. Mary Gilpin, a cousin of the above gentleman, died at her home in Elkton, Md. on Wednesday, October 24th, in the 89th, year of her age. Both were near relatives of Dr. T. H. Gilpin of this town.

—Near Newark, on last Sunday evening about 9.30, a fire occurred on the farm of S. M. Reynold, of this town, occupied by Geo. W. Knotts, tenant, formerly of Odessa, by which a large double decker barn 72x40, together with the entire contents was destroyed. No live stock excepting three hogs, were lost. The contents of the building in detail was as follows: 400 bushels of wheat, 200 bushels of corn, lot of oats, 10 tons of hay, about 20 tons straw, reaper, mower, drill, wagons, and all other farm machinery. The building was worth at the time of the fire, at a low estimate $3000, and was insured for $2000 in the Queen. Mr. Reynolds had also $500 on contents in the same company. Mr. Knotts the tenant, had no insurance, and looses all his implements and share of grain. Mr. Reynolds will probably lose at least $1000 beyond his insurance as the building cannot be replaced for less than $3500.

—The pastor of the M. E. Church was not in a condition to fill his pulpit on Sunday, but found an efficient supply in Rev. W. E. Tompkinson of Wilmington. The weekly prayer services have a growing interest and are exceedingly profitable to the large number in attendance. In no department have our Methodists improved more than in their prayer services. The singing last Thursday evening had the old time fear about it, and was real freshing even to a passer by on the street. Active but great work is being done in all the departments of the church. The pastor feels keenly the loss of the co-operation efforts of some of his best helpers who have been sick, but others are being trained. The noble women are numerous and faithful. Special themes will be treated by the Rev. R. H. Adams Sunday morning and evening. May the borders of all our churches be enlarged.

—Prof. Thorp the new principal of the Academy, is giving entire satisfaction and since he has taken charge of the school the list of scholars has been largely incre .

—Charles H. Stillwell and Miss Jennie Griffith, both of Chesapeake City, were married on Wednesday night of last week at the residence of Titus Griffith, No. 808 Harrison street, Wilmington, Del., by Rev. W. L. S. Murray. The wedding was followed by a reception. The bride and groom left on Tuesday morning for their home near Chesapeake City.

—Should space permit us next week we will reply to part of Mr. Higgins' speech. We do not agree with him nor the Times.

—We hear an oyster saloon will be opened in the Town Hall in the near future. As usual in that room a fortune awaits him.

—Quite a number from here will attend the musical entertainment by the Till family in Middletown Opera House on Monday next.

—Two or three of our citizens will attend the exposition at Richmond, Va. We have a free stop for a week ourselves if we only could get there.

—On Friday last Nat Boyles left town somewhat unceremoniously. His father was away from town that day and on his return home found a note from his 19 year old son that he was off.

—The paraphernalia for the contemplated newspaper arrived in town on Friday. We extend our greetings to Mr. Sentman and hope he may have good staying powers. First issue comes out I understand on Saturday.

—Lord & Polk Chemical Company are receiving large quantities of raw material. They are making active preparations for the shipment of fifteen hundred tons of fertilizer in the next month to a southern point. They expect soon to receive about 2000 tons of material in the crude state.

—Rev. Hector McLean preached his farewell sermon on Sunday morning to the congregation of the Drawyers' Presbyterian Church, and yesterday Mr. McLean moved to his new quarters in Pennsylvania, leaving with us many a regret for his departure and best wishes for his future prospects. Rev. Mr. Conway will occupy the pulpit on Sunday.

—For the undeserved and very flattering manner in which a Well Wisher speaks of my subscribing to the capital stock of the railroad I beg to return thanks. It was only my duty, as it should be every one interested in the benefit of Odessa and Middletown, to subscribe. I say of Middletown because we want to get your freight by the Clio and then by our road to Middletown if possible. I have not been in conversation, unless I am very much mistaken in his identity, with a Well Wisher. If my recruits are slow in joining rank is no fault of your correspondent. For no time hardly can we get all to face the powder who enlist. Some are sure to jump the bounty. But let them go. They will fall in line later and fill the breach. During the past week I have enlisted more recruits and will report to head quarters on Monday next. If my reserve is small they are solid. And though a bee is small he can tickle a bull. So I will keep on trying to enlist more in the cause of the railroad.

The Till Family is a company of christian people and know how to entertain a refined audience. Socially and proffessionally they stand high.

County Teachers' Institute.

The New Castle County Teachers' Institute will hold its annual meeting in New Castle on Wednesday, November 21, and continue four days. This is the fourteenth gathering of the county teachers, and promises, with the attractions offered by Superintendent Bessey, to be of the most interesting character. Some of the popular and well-known educators of this and adjoining states who will be present and take part in the programme are Dr. William H. Purnell, ex-president of Delaware College: Dr. A. N. Raub of Newark, the present President of the college, whose lectures on education are always such a feature of these institutes; deputy state superintendent of the public schools of Pennsylvania, Dr. Houck; Professor E. O. Lyte of Millersville, Pa.; Principal Berlin of the High School; Superintendent Harlan, both of Wilmington; L. Irving Handy, the Kent county superintendent of public schools, and several other well-known teachers of the state.

In addition to all these the services of three well known public speakers have been secured to address the teachers each evening in the New Castle opera House. Wallace Bruce will lecture on "Womanhood in Shakespeare;" Colonel George W. Baine on "The Pendulum of Life," and that eccentric lawyer and orator, Daniel Dougherty, late of Philadelphia, now of New York," on the subject; "On the Stage."

Neither old nor young should fail to receive the happy and refined refreshment offered by the Till Family Concert.

A Snake Story.

A queer story comes from Elkton. While Wm. Hall and Geo. Woodsides were cutting wood on Greys Hill, near Elkton, Hall in locating his lot came suddenly upon a lot of black snakes. His first impulse was to call for Woodsides who was a short distance away. After calling for awhile and receiving no answer he started on a run to look for his friend. After finding him they both went back to where the snakes were first seen, and upon nearing the place were attacked by five large black snakes. The men used clubs freely and did not let up until all five of the snakes were dead. Woodsides was at one time wrapped around as with a cord and severely bitten on the hand. The smallest of the snakes was four and a half feet long and as thick as a man's wrist. The Cecil Whig predicts that parties of ladies will not frequent Grey's Hill as much this month in search of autumn leaves as in former years.

What a Brooklyn Newspaper says About the Till Family.

This celebrated company of musicians have received from the Press the most enthusiastic praise. The appearance of this Family in Middletown on Monday Octo. 29th induces us to reprint the following:

The large audience who last evening filled Plymouth Church were agreeably surprised by a concert of a most unique and original character. The Till family, known as the Rock Band Concert Company, filled a programme, every number of which was enthusiastically encored. The strange instrument which stretched across the platform, composed of several pieces of gray rock, arranged like the keys of a piano, excited great curiosity; but when the most liquid and delicious music was caused by tapping these veritable boulder stones, the interest was intense. These Cumberland stones seemed to contain the very poetry and music of the Lake district, and of Wordsworth, Coleridge and Southey, who made the beautiful region of Skiddaw and Derwentwater vocal with their song. Many other strange and curious instruments of music were performed on during the evening, and the Till Family Quartette gave selections of a high order and humorous songs which were well chosen and well received. Emminently successful at the Crystal Palace, London, they will delight thousands wherever they appear, as freshness, originality and astounding and agreeable surprises are ever welcomed in these days when indeed we are so often confirmed in the belief that there is nothing new under the sun.

The circular distributed through town today should be read by every one. The descriptions and testimonials are not exaggerated. Reserved seats at W. H. Moore & Co., 50 cents general admission 35 cents gallery 20 cents.

Literary and Journalistic.

Yachtmen, and lovers of boating generally, will find agreeable reading in Harper's Magazine for November, in a paper entitled "Boats on the Tagus," by Tristram Ellis. They are picturesque enough looking craft, as the graceful illustrations show; but they evidently were not designed by Edward Burgess, M. A. (Harvard, 1888). That some of the classes are no longer being duplicated shows that the Portuguese fishermen are un-English enough not to stick to a model that experience has shown is not the best.

The following is an extract from a letter written home by Mr. Kennan while he was in Russia investigating the exile system for The Century magazine:

The exile system is much worse than I supposed. Mr. ——'s examination of prisons and study of the exile system were extremely superficial. I cannot understand how, if he really went through the Tiumen and Tomsk forwarding prisons, he could have failed to see that their condition and the condition of their wretched inmates were in many respects shocking. Nobody here has tried to conceal it from me. The acting governor of this province said to me very frankly yesterday that the condition of the Tomsk prison is "oozhasnoi" (awful), but that he cannot help it. . . . What I have previously written and said about the treatment of the political exiles seems to be substantially true and accurate, at least so far as Western Siberia is concerned, but my preconceived ideas as to their character have been rudely shaken. The Russian liberals and revolutionists whom I have met here are by no means half-educated enthusiasts, crazy fanatics, or men whose mental processes it is difficult to understand. On the contrary, they are simple, natural, perfectly comprehensible and often singularly interesting and attractive. One sees at once that they are educated, reasonable, self-controlled gentlemen, not different in any essential respect from one's self. When I write up this country for The Century, I shall have to take back some of the things that I have said. The exile system is worse than I believed it to be, and worse than I have described it. It isn't pleasant, of course, to have to admit that one has written upon a subject without fully understanding it; but even that is better than trying, for the sake of consistency, to maintain a position after one sees that it is utterly untenable.

Captious critics who have read the three papers on "Our Journey to the Hebrides," published in Harper's Magazine (the third part in the November Number), may be inclined to say that Elizabeth Robins Pennell, and Joseph, her husband, are a little hard to suit. If it rained, they did not like it; nor were they pleased when the sun shone hot. They grumbled at walking, and refused chances to ride when opportunity invited. Still, the "Journey" has been a pleasant one for the Magazine's readers, the bits of good-natured personality therein only seeming to give it piquancy. This last part swings them around to Edinburgh again, after taking them through Macbeth's country. The illustrations, as previously, are capital, and selected with judgment.

"The New York Real Estate Exchange," by Richard Wheatley, in Harper's Magazine for November, is something more than the description of a building and a business. It is, to be sure all that; but it contains, besides, much information in regard to the great landlords of New York—a class of persons whom the most humble of tenants has reason to be interested in. Startling figures, showing the great increase in the price of land in New York City, are also given. Will any one be surprised to know that certain lots in the business part of the town could not be bought if they were literally covered over with ten-dollar bills? Yet that is a fact, as a little calculation based on Mr. Wheatley's figures will show. The entire article is worth the serious attention both of business men and students of political economy. The portraits and other illustrations are admirable.

No. 1, Vol 11, of Collier's Once a Week, published October 20, promises to be a literary marvel. Amelie Rives commences a weird story, "On Bone's Island!" H. Rider Haggard begins a thrilling serial, entitled "My Fellow Laborer." Dion Boucicault continues his fascinating Irish-American novel, "Hy-Bras-Yi;" Bill Nye will be at his best; Edgar Fawcett and Julian Hawthorne contribute special papers; Marion Harland opens "Woman's World;" Nym Crinkle does the theaters; Miss Braddon, author of "Lady Audley's Secret," "John Marchmount's Legacy," etc., etc., commences a serial in No 3, "It is Easier for a Camel;" John Habberton, author of "Helen's Babies," contributes a Southern Sketch, "'Fo de Wah!" the famous Maxwell Frazer, LL.D delivers a lecture on "Ambition" for "Our Coming Men;" and poetry, puzzles, etc., etc., and illustrations by Nast, Morgan, Sterner, McIlvaine, Ogden, Kendrick, etc., etc., complete the contents of this most wonderful seven cents' worth in the world. Who would be without Collier's Once a Week?

One small particle in the eye pains the whole body. Use Warner's Log Cabin Extract. It will cure many a pain.

Why go West

When such grand opportunities await you in West Virginia, Maryland and the famous Shenandoah Valley, Virginia, a section possessing all the requisites for health, comfort and prosperity.

No region in the United States is attracting greater attention than those States. People from the North, West and extreme South are looking that way with the view of locating. Improved farm lands are to be obtained at from $8 per acre and upwards, unimproved timber and grazing lands at from $1 to $6.00 per acre.

Rich mineral lands are cheap, excellent water powers, manufacturing sites, business locations, etc., are numerous. The schools and churches are excellent; the people hospitable and extend a warm welcome to new comers. The climate is unequaled, no severe storms or cyclones, no contagious diseases.

If you wish to know more about these States you should write to M. V. Richards, Land and Emigrant Agent, B. & O. R. R., Baltimore, Md., stating what you want and he will give you full information free of charge. Chas. O. Scull, Gen. Pass. Agent, B. & O. R. R. Co.

Warner's Log Cabin Remedies. —"Sarsaparilla," —Cough and consumption Remedy,"—Hops and Buchu," —"Extract," —Hair Tonic," —"Liver Pills,"—"Plasters," (Porous-Electrical),—"Rose Cream," for Catarrh. They are, like Warner's "Tippecanoe," the simple, effective remedies of the old Log Cabin days.

PENINSULA PARAGRAPHS.

W. R. Riggin and Miss Ida D. Cryer, both of Laurel, will be married on Friday, October 26.

It is useless to attempt the cure of any disorder, if the blood is allowed to remain impure. Neuralgia and rheumatism are traceable to a disordered condition of the blood, and in numberless cases have been cured by taking a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

The Peninsula Methodist reports the case of a preacher in the M. E. Church, the Rev. John Cann of Zion Circuit, who during his quarter of a century's work in the church has joined six hundred hearts that beat as one. His aggregate receipts for these marriage ceremonies has been only five dollars, or one and two-thirds cents for each marriage.

Public meetings are being held by the Democrats in the upper part of the state, and our most influential public men are addressing the people almost every night. This is good enough, as far as it goes; but why is this section of the state neglected? Gentlemen, do you really consider Sussex so terribly Democratic that there is no use of Democratic argument? Don't fool yourselves. Sussex is getting a little mixed, and we need a few public speakers down this way. Don't let the Republicans have it all to themselves.—Laurel Gazette.

Invalids should remember that the causes of sick and nervous headaches may be promptly removed by taking Ayer's Pills. These Pills speedily correct irregularities of the stomach, liver, and bowels, and are the mildest and most reliable cathartic in use.

One of the cases before the present term of the Kent county, Md., court is that of the Fruit Growers' Hotel Company of Still Pond, against a number of prominent citizens of that village and neighborhood, who, the company asserts, have been original subscribers for stock in the hotel, but who afterward declined to pay on the ground of alleged violation of contract in the location of the hotel. The case was commenced on Wednesday morning before a jury and would have occupied the balance of last week, but was compromised, the defendants taking one-half of the original stock.

There were about 1000 Democrats of the country in Dover Monday to attend the Democratic mass meeting. People came from all parts of the county and state. Charles Seckelman made the opening address, with the following organization: President, J. Alexander Fulton; vice-presidents, C. J. Harrington, James K. Taylor, J. L. Heverin, David Reese and Dr. E. W. Cooper; secretaries, J. L. Whitaker, Gilbert Taylor and John D. Harkins. Mr. Seckelman being from Bethlehem, Pa., gave the audience the state of protection in the iron and coal works. He went into a description of the tariff and made a fine speech. After almost an hour he finished, and was followed by General Bradley T. Johnson of Baltimore, who made one of his characteristic and able speeches, which was greatly applauded. The General naturally took with the people and made his remarks upon the tariff and self-government of the people. He is a fine speaker. Senator George Gray succeeded General Johnson and made a fine address to an attentive audience. The oyster roast drew a large number of people and proved a success.

The adjourned meeting was held in the Town Hall. Senator Gray made a speech complimenting the people upon the good government that they live under and the principles of the Democratic party. He compared a man who refused to vote his party's ticket to a child who would stab the mother who gave him birth. Mr. Gray was followed by the Hon. John B. Pennington, who defended his votes and position in Congress. Both speakers advocated the support of the whole ticket and the continuance of the Democratic party in power. The day reminded one of a regular old-time Democratic rally.—Morning News.

PERSONAL.—A young lady of seventeen summers, highly educated, refined, and of prepossessing appearance, desires to form the acquantance of some nice young man, whom she would advice, if troubled with dyspepsia, to use that great blood purifier, Sulphur Bitters.

Sydney Roach the young train wrecker was acquitted in court at Dover Tuesday on the ground of insanity and committed to the almshouse. Col. Cooper his counsel, has worked hard to clear Roach and has saved him from a long term of imprisonment.

POOR BUT HONEST.—Charlie Sullivan is a poor but Honest Irish lad, who, while walking down Washington street, found a wallet containing checks and money to the value of several hundred dollars. Although almost destitute, he returned it to its owners, Messrs. A. P. Ordway & Co., proprietors of Sulphur Bitters, who gave him a liberal reward, and also gave him six bottles of Sulphur Bitters for his mother, who has been a terrible sufferer with rheumatism, and who returned many blessings after being cured by their use.—Weekly World.

The Rev. J. T. Louden Hynes of Denton, has accepted a call to the P. E. Church of Seaford, and will move there next week.

THE TRANSCRIPT STATIONERY DEPARTMENT.

There are probably 2500 people who come to Middletown to do more or less shopping. They do not care to buy any article that costs more or is of an inferior quality than can be obtained in the city.

We think they are right; consequently we propose to ask them to buy from us only such articles, as by comparison they know are as cheap and are as good as the city wares.

We have sold quite a number of goods, and the usual comment has been 'How cheap.'

It does not take long to make a reputation and we are glad say from indications ours will soon be made, and will be a good one. The school children have already found out where their pennies will go the farthest. If we please the children we please everybody.

We are giving away a limited number of pictures with each purchase. Call and see us.

LOG CABIN GRANDMOTHERS.

An Indiana doctor has recently discovered in a common weed whose medicinal qualities have never before been suspected, a valuable remedy for bowel disorders.

There is nothing particularly strange about this fact.

Nothing.

And yet the very simplicity of the new discovery would, with some, seem to throw just doubt upon its power. To make it one has only to pour hot water over the leaves of the plant. In its preparation no vast chemical works and appliances are required.

Is it to be wondered at since such plainly prepared remedies are accounted as of such great merit in these days, that such wonderful results attended our grandmothers, whose teas and infusions of roots and herbs and balsams, have exerted so great an influence in the maintenance of health and life?

Certainly not!

The greatest pieces of machinery strike us most by their exceeding simplicity.

The secret of the success of grandmothers remedies was their freshness and simplicity. Every autumn found the little Log Cabin abundantly supplied with fresh leaves, roots, herbs and balsams, which were carefully dried and prepared and laid away for use. Dreading to call a doctor because of the expensiveness of his far-made trips, they immediately gave attention to the disease and routed it before it gained a foothold.

The old Log Cabin grandmother, in cap and high tucked gown, and perchance bespectacled in rough silver, her weary feet encased in "hum made" slips, is the dear sweet nurse who rises to the view of many a man and woman to-day as the early years of life pass in retrospect.

The secrets of grandmother's medicines were rapidly being forgotten and the world was not growing in the grace of good health. To restore the lost art of log cabin healing has been for years the desire of a well known philanthropist in whose ancestral line were eight "goodly physicians" of the old style, men who never saw a medical college save in the woods, nor a "medical diploma" except that inscribed on the faces of healthy and long lived patients. Much time and money was expended in securing the old formulæ, which to-day are put forth as "Log Cabin remedies,"—sarsaparilla, hops and buchu, cough and consumption, and several others, by Warner, whose name is famous and a standard for medical excellence all over the globe. These oldest, newest and best preparations have been recognized as of such superexcellence that to-day they can be found with all leading dealers.

When Col. Ethan Allen was making history along our northern frontier during the revolution, Col. Seth Warner, the fighting Sheridan of that army, who was a skillful natural doctor, used many such remedies, notable like the Log Cabin Extract, sarsaparilla and cough and consumption remedy, among the soldiers with famous success.

They are a noble inheritance which we of to-day may enjoy to the full, as did our forefathers, and using, reap, as did they, the harvest of a light full of days and full of usefulness.

A Pair of Modern Shoes.

Making a shoe in the olden time, when one man killed the beast, dressed and tanned the skin and made the shoes for himself, was a comparatively simple matter, but at present to such an extent has the division of labor gone that it is said that 117 different processes must be gone through with before the hide is ready for the customer in the elegant shoe store of the present day. Just as all science is required to feed a man, for on his dinner table will be seen the products of every land on the globe, just so all countries contribute to the manufacture of a pair of shoes. The leather, for example, comes from our forest trees, while the cloth, thread, nails, wire, screws, steel, brass may come from as many different quarters, and a large number of machines have been invented to simplify the work; but in spite of all this, after the leather is duly prepared, and comes to the factory ready for manufacture, no less than fifty different pairs of hands are employed in one point or another in putting together the forty-four pieces which enter into a pair of fashionable shoes.

A Business-like Offer.

For many years the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy have offered, in good faith, $500 reward for a case of Nasal Catarrh which they cannot cure. The remedy is sold by druggists at only 50 cents. This wonderful remedy has fairly attained a world-wide reputation. If you have dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucus, purulent, bloody and putrid; if the eyes are weak, watery and inflamed; if there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the voice being changed and has a nasal twang; the breath offensive; smell and taste impaired; sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility, you are suffering from nasal catarrh. The more complicated your disease, the greater the number and diversity of symptons. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptons, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood, or more unsuccessfully treated by physicians.

Congress has at last adjourned, for which the country is devoutly thankful; paying men $5000 per annum, to make political speeches, is hardly the way to advance needed legislation.

Would you know the keen delight
Of a wholesome appetite,
Unrestrained by colic's dire,
Headache's curse, or fever's fire,
Thoughts morose, or icy chills?
Then use Dr. Pierce's pills.

Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets—the original and only genuine Little Liver Pills; 25 cents a vial.

A Michigan Farmer in a Riot.

Meet with an accident?" asked a policeman of a farmer in the market yesterday morning with one of his eyes in deep mourning.

"Yes, sorter,"

"Fall out of a tree?"

"Not exactly."

"Stick of wood fly up?"

"Hardly. A couple of days ago two chaps came along in a buggy and wanted to sell me 100 feet of wire clothes line for 75 cents. I bought it, and then they wanted me to sign a paper reccommending its use. When I got ready to sign I found that it was a note for $100."

"And then?"

"Didn't feel the ground tremble in town that day, did you?"

"I don't remember."

"It was probably to fur. I waded into 'em. They waded back. In the scrimmiage I got this."

"And they got off scot-free, I suppose?"

"Do you? Well, there's a town doctor riding out to see 'em every day, and my naybur has drawn up wills for 'em. Mebbe an old farmer with a sledstake hain't of any account in a springriot, and mebbe people nine miles away heard him whoop as he went in for blood! Want a bag o' taters this morning?"—Detroit Free Press.

Warner's Log Cabin Remedies—old fashioned, simple compounds, used in the days of our hardy forefathers, are "old timers" but "old reliable." They comprise a "Sarsaparilla," "Hops and Buchu Remedy," "Cough and Consumption Remedy,", "Hair Tonic," "Extract" for External and Internal Use, "Plasters," "Rose Cream," for Catarrh, and "Liver Pills." They are put up by H. H. Warner & Co., proprietors of Warner's Safe Remedies, and promise to equal the standard value of those great preparations. All druggist keep them.

When Lawyer Henkle, of Washington, had first to reply to Lawyer Belva Lockwood in the district court he referred to her as "my learned sister-in-law."

If you cannot take the baby to the country use Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup for the usual diseases of early childhood. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Every moment of our lives, every part of our body is wearing out and being built up anew. This work is accomplished by the blood, but if the blood does not perform the work properly the system is poisoned. Cleanse the blood by the use of Laxador, the golden remedy.

The newest evening tints are wheat color, primrose, magnolia, azuline, Malmaison, pink, tourterelle and anianda, the latter a pale yellow overcast with brown.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is a purely vegetable preparation, being free from injurious ingredients. It is peculiar in its curative power.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., July 2, 1888.
The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.:

Gentlemen—I can cheerfully and truthfully say that S. S. S. is the greatest blood purifier on earth. In 1884 I contracted blood poison. Physicians treated me with no good results. I took a half dozen different kinds of blood medicines, but, without receiving any permanent relief! I was induced to try S. S. S. I began the first bottle with the gravest doubts of success. I had been so often deceived. But improvement came, and I continued its use until perfectly well. I have since married, and have a healthy family. No trace of the disease is seen. Swift's Specific did all this for me, and I am grateful. Yours truly, J. S. STRADER.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF THE UNITED STATES!

The Graphic Publishing Company issues two Democratic newspapers—THE DAILY GRAPHIC and the WEEKLY GRAPHIC. They are recognized throughout the United States as most loyal and consistent supporters of the Democratic party. Both papers are staunch supporters of the National and State Administrations. The DAILY and WEEKLY GRAPHIC circulates in every State and Territory of the Union. THE DAILY GRAPHIC is published at $9.00 per annum and the WEEKLY is published at $2.50 per annum.

The recently issued address of the National Democratic Committee to the people of the United States sets forth in plain language its pressing need of funds for the legitimate expenses of this campaign. Never has money been subscribed more liberally, but never has there been such a demand for tariff documents. Millions of these have been printed and circulated at great expense. Millions more must be distributed and the money to pay for them must be raised. In view of the urgent need for campaign funds the publishers of THE GRAPHIC have decided to make the following offer to the Democratic voters of the U. S.:

To every Subscriber to the WEEKLY GRAPHIC between now and November 6, the paper will not only be mailed for one year, but ONE-HALF of the subscription price ($1.25) will be immediately sent to the National Democratic Committee and acknowledged by it.

Now, then, how does this strike you? You receive the weekly edition of the best Democratic, as well as the best Daily Illustrated paper in the country at its regular subscription price for one year dating from October 1, 1888, and you help your party to perpetuate the principles of Democracy and Tariff Reform.

Our cartoons by THE NAST, the great caricaturist, are alone worth the price of the paper. Send along a subscription for the WEEKLY GRAPHIC by next mail, getting the paper at its regular subscription price, which also contributes $1.25 to the Campaign Fund. We want 100,000 Subscriptions in 30 days and we expect, with your prompt and vigorous support to get them, and your names will go down to posterity in the columns of THE GRAPHIC as good Democrats and good men of business. A Very Sharp Dog.

Senator Kenna and Senator Blackburn are great sportsmen, as every one knows. Each is the owner of a setter, the relative merits of which they are frequently engaged in discussing in the cloak rooms of the Senate, much to the annoyance of their more staid colleagues. The other day Kenna said to Blackburn, lighting a fresh cigar:

"Joe, you may talk as you like about your dog but mine won't go out with me at all when the cartridges do not fit my gun."

"Well, Kenna, I admit that your dog exhibits an intelligence almost akin to reason, but I don't mind backing mine against him. I was in the fields one day with that dog and a man I wasn't acquainted with came along near us. My dog pointed at him. I called to the dog, but nothing would induce him to move. So I went up to the stranger.

"Sir," I said, "would you oblige me with your name?"

"Certainly," replied the stranger, "my name is Partridge."

Without another word Kenna took Blackburn's arm and both disappeared followed by the shouts of their friends.

"Mr. Watterjones," called the night editor down the speaking tube, "this editorial, A 'Rascal Unveiled,' must have been written under a mistaken idea. It charges Col. Bilks with having committed gross frauds in stuffing the ballot box and intimidating voters in Bourbon County. Colonel Bilks is the chairman of our Congressional Committee in that district. You've got him mixed up with some other man."

"Ha," exclaimed the editor, "that will never do. Add to the article, 'this, of course, is the infamous campaign lie that has been circulated for political effect by the venomous and scoundrelly enemies of that incorruptible patriot, Colonel Bilks,' and change the heading to 'Another Lie Nailed.'"—Chicago Tribune.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at Dr. W. R. Pearsons's Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS
The Cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world. Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers in all countries, they have received the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues $22 TO $900. Free.
Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1883, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGER," by the use of which the tone of the instrument is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune and other important advantages.
